Embu region is located on the Eastern slopes of ice peaked Mount Kenya. This region gets a nice meter plus of rain and has, surprise since it is on the slope of an old volcano, very nice red volcanic soil, which contributes to the cup in a nice fashion.

The Thambana Farmers Cooperative Society has just under 3,000 members and 300 HA of land collectively. Wow, that's .1 HA per average farmer, or a little over one bag of top exporting coffee per farmer.

Hope you enjoy this cup, Karibu!
