

Huehuetenango Quetzal

High-grown, hard-bean coffees from Guatemala are a staple offering for us as they are for many coffee roasters: The crisp acidity, full body, and toffee sweetness found in these coffees make them valuable as approachable and affordable single-origin brews, or as backbone blend components that layer nicely with more complex or fruitier complements.

For more information about coffee production in Guatemala, visit our Guatemala page.

ID# 15239

Origin	Guatemala
Region	Huehuetenango
Farm	Various smallholder farmers
Variety	Bourbon, Caturra, Catuai, Maragogype, Pache
Altitude	1600–1800 masl
Proc. Method	Washed

The Cup

" Tart, sweet and clean with lemongrass and praline flavors."

Gallery Huehuetenango

